

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY

Director of Campus Ministry

August 14, 2006

Dear Affiliated Ministries:

Blessings and may God's peace be upon you! We pray your summers have been restorative and affirming in life and ministry. The new academic year is already upon us, and we are thanking God for another year.

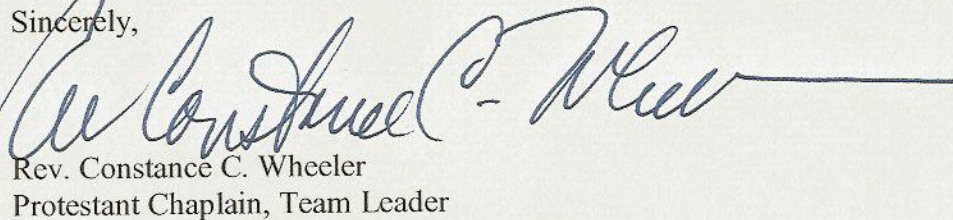

As we shared in conversation at the close of the Spring semester, we spent the 2005-2006 academic year evaluating many areas of Protestant Ministry's mission and outreach at Georgetown University, including that of our Affiliated Ministries. After much laboring in prayers and conversations with ministerial leaders, Protestant Ministry has decided to move in another direction for the 2006-2007 academic year.

As a result of our new direction for the upcoming academic year, we have decided to not renew any covenant agreements with any of the Affiliated Ministries. This will become effective immediately. As any previous covenant agreements ended with the 2005-2006 academic year, your ministries will no longer be allowed to hold any activity or presence (i.e. bible studies, retreats with Georgetown students, Mid-week worship services, fellowship events, move-in assistance, SAC Fair, etc.) on campus. As well, there will be no Affiliated Ministry presence or participation at our annual Campus Ministry Open House held at the end of August.

Additionally, all websites linking your ministries to a presence at Georgetown University will need to be modified to reflect the terminated relationship. Your ministries are not to publicize in any literature, media, advertisement, etc. that Georgetown University is or will be an active ministry site for your ministry/church/denomination.

While we realize this comes as a great disappointment, please know we are moving forward with this decision only after much dialogue with the Lord. We have enjoyed working with your ministries in various capacities over the years and will always keep your ministry in our prayers.

Sincerely,

Rev. Constance C. Wheeler
Protestant Chaplain, Team Leader

cc: Rev. Timothy S. Godfrey, S.J.
Rev. Patrick D. Rogers, S.J.

Box 571250
Washington DC 20057-1250
Office: 202.687.5259 Fax: 202.687.7391